

Nature of the Challenge Part 3 Best Practices

Slide 1

So how do you achieve this connectivity to the Internet? This slide illustrates some of the possibilities in order to achieve that. These types of gear can be packaged into Toolkits or fly away kits and ready for the next operation. These technologies are readily available on the commercial market and can be purchased for relatively little money.

Slide 2

Some best practices are get your tools organized, prepare your contacts lists, and exercise your procedures. It may be prudent to send in a survey team, if there is time, in order to determine what equipment and information is truly necessary. There may be host-nation restrictions that preclude you from bringing in certain types of equipment.

Slide 3

In summary, this short presentation highlights some of the shortfalls and impediments to information sharing. It has also described ways to mitigate the in order to have an effective and successful operation. Understanding the nature of the challenge, planning accordingly, and developing practices to avoid potential issues is the best way to respond to a crisis. I encourage you to read the Primer for additional detail.